“Chet, I am still tracking your listings for car wash opportunities. As a long-term practitioner of the real estate arts or science depending on your perspectives, I sincerely respect your approach to the industry. You are forthright, upfront with your presentations and provide the essential info. necessary for another practitioner to determine, if a property has merit for his clients. After meeting you, one quickly determines that you are a direct and bottom-line communicator. In the world of commercial real estate brokerage, there is a lot of time wasted determining authenticity and credible communications. I appreciate and respect what you are doing. You are a credit to the industry and I look forward to actually doing a transaction with you.”
